

Every company you own. One screen. Day one.

RouteHouse Insight rolls up revenue, cash, pricing, fleet and compliance across every company, division and location, so your operating team spots the problem in week one instead of quarter three.

The problem: every company you buy runs its own system, whether that's another field-service app, QuickBooks, spreadsheets or paper. The investment plan counts on operating improvements that nobody can measure for months.

DAY ONE

Every Company, Financial View

Connect each company's bank accounts (read-only, through Plaid) and QuickBooks Online, or upload a spreadsheet. See revenue, margin, cash, receivables and unusual bank activity for every company, whatever software it runs.

AS COMPANIES MOVE ONTO ROUTEHOUSE

Full Operating Detail

Truck-by-truck performance, price-list adherence, callbacks, utilization, compliance paperwork and job-matched travel. The console shows which numbers each company is missing; moving onto RouteHouse fills them in.

Needs Attention, first

Opens on exceptions: discounting, cash running short, unknown payees, missing paperwork.

Cash and bank activity

13-week cash trend and days of cash, with unusual activity flagged for review.

Pricing leakage

Each company's average ticket against one group price list, in dollars a year.

Compliance by state

Waste manifests and signatures across the group, with open exceptions.

Companies ranked side by side

Revenue, margin, revenue per truck-day, days to collect. Drill to the truck.

Built for separate companies

Scoped, read-only group access. Each company keeps its own account.

One System for Every Trade the Group Runs

RouteHouse is the field-service app your companies' crews and offices run every day. Each trade gets its own edition, with its own report, checklist and paperwork, all on one platform.

Multi-Trade

The tech's day, one tap from directions

Routes built around truck capacity and dump runs

The report, emailed from the driveway

In the Truck

- Today's jobs with one-tap directions
- Arrival stamped with GPS, time and weather
- Your paper report, mirrored: the trade's checklist, readings and photos
- Report emails itself with the office copied
- Works with no signal, on any tablet or phone

In the Office

- Efficient routing around drive time, truck capacity and required stops
- Property registry with full history and service-due reminders
- Invoicing and card payments through each company's own Stripe account
- QuickBooks Online sync

Compliance

- Disposal manifests and trip tickets tied to each job
- Monthly discharge log from every truck empty
- Grease traps tracked as assets, with the 25% rule watched automatically

Built for Buy-and-Build

Priced by the truck

Unlimited users on every plan, so office staff and helpers cost nothing extra.

One platform, many trades

Septic, grease, restrooms, roll-off and sewer & drain on one system, not an app per trade.

We move the data

Customers, sites, equipment and service history come across from the old system at no cost.

Each company stands alone

Its own account, so a company can be sold without untangling shared data.
